

The General Assembly has decided to move to an EQC qualification system through the Belgian Quidditch League. This will start from the 2020-2021 season, meaning that the first EQC qualification based on the Belgian Quidditch League will happen for EQC 2022. To find the fairest system for an EQC qualification we have decided to have an experimental BQL this year to see what works best for the future.

We will try a system worked out by Arnoud Bourdoux and Florian Dion for the first half of the season. In december we will evaluate the system and see if we will continue with it or will try another system that would be more fitting for the 2020-2021 qualification season. The system we will try goes as follows:

League day	Location	Date	Invited teams					Matches played
			1	2	3	4	5	1	2	3	4	5	6
1	A	05-06/10/19	A	B	C	D		A vs B	C vs D	A vs C	B vs D	A vs D	B vs C
2	D	26-27/10/19	D	E	F	G		D vs G	E vs F	D vs F	E vs G	F vs G	D vs E
3	H	16-17/11/19	A	B	G	H		B vs G	A vs H	B vs H	A vs G	G vs H	A vs B
4	C	7-8/12/19	B	C	E	F		C vs E	B vs F	B vs C	E vs F	B vs E	C vs F
5	F	25-26/01/20	A	C	F	H		A vs H	C vs F	C vs H	A vs F	A vs C	F vs H
6	E	15-16/02/20	A	D	E	H		D vs E	E vs H	A vs D	D vs H	A vs E
7	G	7-8/03/20	C	D	G	H		C vs G	D vs H	C vs D	G vs H	C vs G	D vs G
8	B	28-29/03/20	B	D	F	G		B vs F	B vs D	F vs G	D vs F	B vs G

There is a possibility to invite a development team to league day 10
Dates in april and may are dependent of the european schedule, target is mid april and early may

Because BQL will be experimental the standing will have little to no real meaning. The result of this is that the winner of this year's BQL will not be granted a ticket for EQC 2021. They will have to participate in the European Quidditch Cup Qualifier to obtain a ticket for EQC 2021.
